4.0 INTRODUCTION

Security is a main concern for any organization. This becomes even more critical when most of the work is done on a mobile phone, PDA or Laptops. Security itself is divided into many a categorizations such as Data Security, Network Security, Information Security, Software Security, Application Security and many more. But the situation becomes vulnerable when all the implied applications are put on Mobile. Mobile here doesn't only mean a cell phone but whatever sort of wireless computing we have does comes under mobility. Many organizations come under the cloud when we talk about mobile security. Two main categories would be Producers and Users. The producers (of mobile services) are affected because they are responsible to provide the security and the user (of mobile services) is affected by the vulnerability of the situation.

4.1 OBJECTIVES

After studying this unit, you should be able to:

- identify how the Industry is affected by the mobile security concerns;
- explain different industries involved in mobile security matters;
- recognize different software and hardware components used in security matters;
- elucidate the purpose of security tools;
- recognize different type of practices those increase vulnerability;
- find different methods that can be used to compensate with the vulnerability; and
- recognize the major issues those are still unsolved.
